TEN KILLED IN BUS-TRUCK CRASH — The gutted wrecks of a bus and a gasoline tank truck are surrounded by smoke as they smolder at a New Brunswick, N. J., intersection Oct. 9 following a flaming crash and explosion which took the lives of ten people. The truck smashed into the bus, which was carrying a group of Trenton State College students, while the bus was stopped at a traffic light. (NEA Telephoto)

CHARRED REMAINS OF FATAL BUS — A charred wreck is all that remains of a bus that exploded and burned after being hit from the rear by a gasoline tank truck at an intersection in New Brunswick, N. J. The bus was carrying girl students from Trenton State College who were returning to school after attending a Broadway play. Nine girls and a teacher were killed in the fire. The bus had stopped for a traffic light when it was rammed by the truck. (NEA Telephoto)

749 Take Olive TB X-Rays; 5,813 Is Final Figure

Ulster County's community free chest X-ray campaign came to an end Friday with a record of 5,813 persons X-rayed. A total of 749 persons lined up in the Town of Olive on the two final days of that program.

Miss Hazel M. Steed, executive director of the Ulster County TB and Health Association and coordinator of the 1959 X-ray program, reported that detailed statistics on the results of the campaign to find unknown cases of tuberculosis will be made public as soon as possible.

To Send Out Notices

Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave, commissioner of the Ulster County Department of Health explained that radiologists at the TB Division, New York State Department of Health, will check the small film X-rays as quickly as they can and notices will be sent out from the Ulster County Department of Health office. Those with negative findings will be so notified. Notices will be sent to those whose X-rays were unsatisfactory. They will be asked to report for the larger plate. In Fair Condition

As Poe lay in fair condition in a Middlesex General Hospital bed, authorities went through his record. This is what it showed:

Two convictions for speeding in New Jersey, one of them a few miles beyond the disaster scene on the same highway.

Five tickets in New York for passing a red light; passing another electric signal; defective truck lighting; not keeping to the right and failing to obey a policeman's directions.

Three warnings in Pennsylvania for speeding, passing a red light and having no rear truck lights.

License Never Revoked

Poe, who faces a mandatory charge of causing death by auto, could not be questioned by police because of his injuries.

White on Stand for Third Day; to Resume Tuesday

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—The murder trial of industrialist Malcolm R. White has been recessed until Tuesday after White underwent intensive cross-examination for the third day.

White became ill Friday in Orange County Court while being questioned by Dist. Atty. Abraham S. Isseks about the fight last Nov. 13 near Chester during which White shot to death union organizer Alfred F. Dugan.

At one point, a 15-minute recess was granted by Judge Edward M. O'Gorman while White was treated by Dr. Lawrence Sweeney of Poughkeepsie, a neurologist. Another physician, Dr. Morris Gerner, had testified earlier that White is epileptic and subject to blackouts.

Maiden Lane Area Inadequate for Turn, Says Radel

A state plan is to be made to solve a left-turn problem near the city's arterial route pattern Mayor Edwin F. Radel said Friday despite his own belief that the Maiden Lane area proposed is inadequate for that purpose.

State Engineer Maynard A. Beebe, after conferring with the mayor Thursday, said a plan would be made for the suggested left turn or "turn-around" facility at Maiden Lane and Albany Avenue to permit easier access to several area business houses.

Mayor Radel, in a letter to Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, said he felt the designated area "is inadequate for a complete turn-around" without use of a section of Academy Green Park which is not legally available.

It was decided at a recent Albany meeting that a left turn within the traffic pattern "would be impractical" and the alternative "Maiden Lane" plan was proposed.

Against Alternate Plan

"Though not an engineer nor thoroughly familiar with engineering practices," the mayor wrote to Assemblyman Wilson, he found that "inspection of the Maiden Lane-Broadway intersection indicated that it appears inadequate for any type of proposed access. Had I been a part of the delegation (in Albany) I would certainly have strongly advised against the alternate plan."

If the state and the business men, he said, anticipate using a portion of Academy Green Park, "I hasten to advise that this land is controlled by a board of directors operating under strict (Continued on Page 5, Col. 5)

Slate Drum Corps For GOP Dinner

One of the Hudson Valley's most spectacular musical units will be a feature of the second annual dinner of the Ulster County Republican Central Committee scheduled October 22, in Governor Clinton Hotel at 7 p. m.

Frank W. Hommel of Saugerties, dinner chairman, announced today that a pre-dinner feature will include an exhibition by the famed Colonial Cavaliers of Port Ewen.

Russia Does More To Help Education, Teachers Are Told

Birnbaum Charges U.S. Short Changes Whole Generation; Dinner Is Tonight

The Soviet Union is "making twice the effort that we are to support public education," Eliot Birnbaum of Syracuse, president of the Empire State Federation of Teachers, told the state convention Friday night at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The three-day convention opened yesterday with the Kingston Teachers Federation as host.

At a special pre-convention meeting of the Kingston local a resolution was adopted urging citizens of the community to consider the "great loss to the community that can result from placing other considerations ahead of the welfare of our children" and to press for acquisition of needed school sites and new construction.

U. S. Leader Coming

It was also announced last night that Carl Megel, president of the American Federation of Teachers, is flying from Chicago today to appear at the convention. Megel, who served many years as a classroom teacher in Chicago, is now in his second term as national president. He is nationally known as a leader in the field of labor-education relations.

Verry to Address Dinner

Highlight of the convention will be the dinner at 6:30 p. m. today at which George E. Verry Jr., president of the Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters, will be the principal speaker. Also on the program will be Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of the Kingston School District (Consolidated) and President Birnbaum, a classroom teacher in the Syracuse school system.

Birnbaum said last night that through education "Russia virtually has raised itself by its bootstraps."

He called attention to the statement of a Russian educator that "a child can be born healthy but he cannot be born educated," pointing out that the Russian follow-up to this simple but profound truth is the key to their startling scientific and technological progress and to the relative lag of the United States.

Kremlin Seizes Initiative on Main Questions

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)

Riding high on the prestige of two moon missiles and Premier Nikita Khrushchev's red carpet treatment in the United States, the Soviet Union is playing the star role on the General Assembly stage this year.

The Soviets have seized the initiative on most East-West questions since Khrushchev told the Assembly Sept. 18 of his scheme for a world without war.

Hinge On Red Ideas

Both the disarmament and outer space issues hinge mainly on plans put forth by the Soviets. The initial proposals were couched in such general terms that the West had no choice but to agree with them in principle.

To oppose Khrushchev's call for global agreement to scrap all arms and armies would have sounded like an argument against peace.

It would have been equally difficult to block the Soviet call for an international conference of scientists to swap experiences in exploring outer space.

The one East-West question on which the Western powers have taken the initiative has threatened to backfire.

Fear Bitter Debate

The call for an airing of the Red China-Tibet situation has alienated a number of Asian neutrals. (Continued on Page 5, Col. 2)

Last Chance to Register

You cannot vote in the general election November 3 unless you register before 10 o'clock tonight.

The polls in the wards of the city and in the county districts will be open tonight until 10 o'clock.

It seems hardly necessary to remind citizens that unless they are registered they cannot vote. However, this is the unescapable prerequisite for voting.

After tonight at 10 o'clock it will be too late. Do it tonight and be prepared to vote in the general election.

Registration in Kingston Under 3 Days in 1958

Figures for three days of registration to vote in the November election show 190 fewer Kingston people went to the polls so far than in 1958.

The record at police headquarters in the city hall as reported by 13 wards reveals that 8,424 have registered so far in comparison to the three-day total in 1958, which was 8,614.

Political leaders said party workers and candidates running in November were putting on a concentrated drive today in an effort to at least reach last year's four-day total of 13,352.

Today is the last chance to register. The polls close at 10 p. m.

Nothing Wrong, Hastings Told

Soper Cites N. Y. Law On Board, Bank Ties

Criticism by a local alderman that two members of the Kingston Board of Education (Consolidated) also serve as officers of banking institutions used as a repository of school funds was answered today by Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools.

Alderman Donald Hastings (D) of the Third Ward in a letter to the State Education Department has charged that Robert H. Herzog, president of the board, and George Schneider, a member, also serve as directors of banks in which the board has deposited school funds, a violation of State Education Law.

No Restrictions

In an answering letter, also directed to the State Education Department, Dr. Soper claims that Education Law and other legal decisions permit the board to "do exactly what is being done."

Dr. Soper's letter: "I have taken the liberty of enclosing a news clipping taken from The Kingston Daily Freeman, dated Wednesday, October 7th. You will note that our local paper has reported the fact that Alderman Donald M. Hastings of our 3rd Ward, has written you and raised certain questions concerning the eligibility of Mr. Robert H. Herzog, board president, and Mr. George Schneider, board member, as directors of banks in which the board has deposited school funds, a violation of State Education Law."

SCAD Is Probing Bias Complaint In Paltz Area

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Complaints of discrimination in private housing for college students are being investigated by two state agencies and an organization of colleges.

The investigation, covering both private and state-operated colleges, is being made by the State Education Department, the State Commission Against Discrimination (SCAD) and the Assn. of Colleges and Universities of New York.

The inquiry stemmed from complaints of two Negroes, a faculty member and a visiting lecturer, that they could not find quarters in private homes near New Paltz State Teachers College. A complaint was filed with SCAD.

Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. said Friday the agencies participating in the investigation would draft a program for corrective action if any discrimination were found.

A spokesman for the Education Department said the department did not know of any other discrimination involving students or instructors.

Conservationists Do Not Take Stand on Road Issue

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)

The State Conservation Council has failed to take a stand on a proposed amendment which would allow the state to use part of the Adirondack Preserve for a super-highway.

Of the 41 county delegates voting on the proposed constitutional amendment Friday, 24 backed an alternately proposed highway along Lake Champlain. This was short of a three-fourths majority needed to pass a resolution, however.

The amendment would empower the state to use 254 acres of Adirondack Forest Preserve for the Northway.

Voter approval is needed for use of the land because an 1885 constitutional amendment requires the 2,300,000-acre preserve to be kept "forever wild."

Meanwhile, the council heard two assemblymen and a state senator back a council resolution describing as a give-away another proposed amendment that would allow the state to transfer the Barge Canal to the federal government.

Although adoption of the amendment would not make such a transfer mandatory, Assemblymen Leo Lawrence of Herkimer and R. Watson Pomeroy of Wa-saica said they both agreed with a council resolution condemning the plan.

Pomeroy urged the amendment be shelved by voters pending a thorough study.

Republican Senator Frank E. Van Lare of Rochester following the stand of the two Republican assemblymen, said the only reason the amendment proposal passed the Senate "was because it was moved through at three o'clock in the morning on the last day of the session."

The council ended its 26th annual meeting today with election of officers.

Panel To Open Work On Monday

Workers Protest, See New Walkout During Yule Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Taft-Hartley law procedures under way to end the 88-day steel strike, a week or more may drift by before the crippling stoppage is halted.

President Eisenhower, in invoking the T-H law in the steel dispute late Friday, gave an inquiry board a week to hold hearings and report back to him on the situation.

To Organize Sunday

The hearings will open here Monday afternoon. The board will hold an organization meeting here Sunday morning.

The panel, headed by George W. Taylor, a skilled labor disputes arbitrator and former chairman of the War Labor Board and Wage Stabilization Board, must report before the President can seek an 80-day strike-halting injunction.

The reporting deadline of next Friday gives Taylor and his two fellow panel members an opportunity to try to mediate the stale-mated steel contract fight.

The other two panel members are John Perkins, president of the University of Delaware, and Paul N. Lehoczy, Ohio State University professor and another veteran arbitrator.

Regrets Stalemate

Eisenhower expressed profound regret that the industry and striking steelworkers had been unable to reach an agreement. He stressed that both have a continuing and grave obligation "to resume negotiations and reach a just and responsible settlement at the earliest possible time."

But the President said both sides had informed him they saw no hope for a settlement. Eisenhower said he had no alternative but to intervene with the nation's health and welfare thus imperiled.

No Industry Comment

The industry had no immediate comment. But David J. McDonald, Steelworkers Union president, said in Pittsburgh the use of Taft-Hartley procedures "would settle nothing on a permanent basis."

A sampling of striking Steelworkers in the Pittsburgh area brought a chorus of protests. Some hinted at a new walkout during the Christmas holidays after an 80-day injunction ran out.

Week's Total Is Lowest for Polio; '59 Figure 244

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The State Health Department is keeping a close watch on the outbreak of polio in the 57 counties outside New York City before deciding whether the disease is on the decline for the year.

The U. S. Public Health Service said Friday the worst was over nationally for this year.

The State Health Department would not say, however, whether the peak had been passed in New York. A spokesman said the department would watch the situation for another week.

August and September normally are peak months for polio. The department said 15 cases of polio had been reported in the 57 counties in the week ending Thursday. This was the lowest total since a sharp upswing began in August.

The high this year was 36 in the week ended Sept. 10. There were 23 cases in the week ended Oct. 1. The total so far this year is 244, compared with 127 at this time a year ago and an average of 1,244 in the years before the widespread use of Salk vaccine.

Eleven of this week's 15 cases were paralytic. There were four paralytic cases in Westchester County, two in Erie, two in Oswego and one each in Nassau and Ontario counties.

Non-paralytic cases were reported in Broome, Rockland, Warren and Westchester counties.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Bredie

Father Paul James Francis knelt on the summit of a mountain overlooking the Hudson River at Garrison, N. Y., and dedicated it to the service of God. He called it the Mount of Atonement. On it he founded a religious society 60 years ago.

First from a leaky shed, he and his fellow friars and sisters administered to the physical and spiritual needs of the destitute men who climbed the mountain and asked for help. None was turned away. Sometimes the last piece of bread was shared with an unfortunate.

Father Paul has passed on but his charity lives today. Between the impressive buildings of Graymoor's summit monastery and valley convent, big St. Christopher's Inn, stands in place of the shed and its door is open to all regardless of race, color or creed.

Your Life And Mine

By CLYDE HERBERT SNELL
Your Heart's Address

One of the earliest things a wise parent teaches his or her child is to know, and be able to tell, where he (or she) lives. The larger the city the more important that information becomes. Many a youngster who has strayed away through an infantile unconcern about where he was going, until he did not know where he was, has been brought home to worried parents by strangers who were able to pry the street address out of the lips of the tearful little wanderer. It is important to teach small children where they live.

Adults, of course, have no trouble remembering their street address, or finding their way home—assuming sobriety. But what's your heart's address? That is very important too. If our hearts always lived where our bodies do, the question would, of course, be silly. But, as we all know, they don't. As Robert Southwell has said: "Not where I breathe; but where I love, I live." Many folks never stop to ask themselves what their heart's address is. They might get a terrible shock if they did.

What is your heart's address? Do you live on the corner of Thoughtless Street and Selfish Avenue? Or is your address Kindness Lane and Love Boulevard? I think God sometimes must wonder how we can be so content to keep the heart address we do, with the world "dying for a little bit of love." So many of us could mean so much more to the world, as well as getting so much more out of life, if we packed up and moved—in the heart sense—to a new and better location. Scads and scads of folks have settled down on Uncaring Alley. They're not happy. They merely go through the daily motions of existence. "Life is not life," says Coventry Patmore, "without delight." And those who live with tragic contentment on Uncaring Avenue never find "delight." It is only the Good Samaritans who, travelling life's roads, bed down at night, whether at home or in distant inns, with light hearts and deep inner joys.

The poet who wrote these lines (I came upon it printed anonymously) had a choice heart address. He lived at the corner of Perspective Avenue and Caring Road.

I have more food than I can eat—
They faint with hunger in the street.
I have more clothes than I can wear—
Their heads, and hands, and feet are bare.
My walls are thick, and warm, and dry—
Their walls are rain, and wind and sky.
My heart knows love of noble souls—
Their hearts are hungry, thirsty bowls.
These things let me remember when
Cries of the needy rise again.

Over WKNY: Sunday, 11 a. m., worship service from the Fair Street Reformed Church, with a sermon by the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra.

Morning Chapel daily at 8:55 a. m.; speakers: Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the Rev. Wayne Olson of the Woodstock Reformed Church; Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the Rev. Patrick Vostello, Reformed Church of the Comforter.

Over WBAZ: Monday through Friday at 9:35 a. m., Morning Devotions with the Rev. Harold F. Schadeewald of the Hurley Reformed Church as the speaker.

The broadcasts are sponsored and arranged by the Kingston Area Council of Churches.

New Minister Is Named to Local Nazarene Church

REV. WILLIS R. SCOTT

Newly appointed pastor of First Church of the Nazarene, Elmendorf Street and Wiltwyck Avenue, is the Rev. Willis R. Scott.

He comes to the Kingston area from the Akron District of the Church of the Nazarene where he was in home mission work. While there he organized eight new churches and was responsible for the construction of several new buildings.

The Rev. Mr. Scott was graduated from Eastern Nazarene College, Boston, Mass., and accepted his first pastorate at Newton Falls, Ohio. He also served in Atwater and Hampton churches, both in Ohio, and was ordained in 1957 at Canton, Ohio.

The new pastor, his wife the former Lois Grimm of Warren, Ohio, and children, W. Royce, 9, Denise, 7, Myra, 2½, and Deborah, 4½ months, reside at 54 Wiltwyck Avenue.

Margaret Zipse New Student Aide At First Baptist

Selection of Miss Margaret Zipse, a senior student majoring in religious education, as new student assistant at First Baptist Church, Albany Avenue at Broadway, was announced today. Announcement of the appointment was made by the Board of Christian Education of the church.

Miss Zipse, a graduate of Ottawa University, Ottawa, Kansas, where she majored in sociology, is presently a senior student at Union Theological Seminary in New York City.

The new student assistant, who is 23 is a native of Grand Junction, Colo., where she is a member of the First Baptist Church.

Miss Zipse comes with a rich background of experience, having served as fellowship chairman of the Colorado State Baptist Youth Fellowship, served as Religious Board chairman while a student at Ottawa University; served on the student staff at the American Baptist Assembly Grounds, Green Lake, Wis., in the summer of 1953 and last year served as chairman of the National Baptist Student Movement, the conference of which was held at Green Lake.

She has also served as a reporter on the newspaper of her home community. It worked as a secretary in the National Offices of the American Baptist Convention. During the winter of 1959 she served the West Side Parish in New York City, teaching released time courses to kindergarten, first and second grades, and in addition worked with parents' groups and conducted teacher training courses. During this past summer she carried on a ministry to Migrants in Colorado.

Miss Margaret Zipse began her services with the First Baptist Church on Rally Day Sunday, Sept. 27. She will minister to the Youth Fellowship programs, serve in the church school and give leadership in the junior church; the latter program being conducted for all children through 10 years of age during the 11 a. m. service of worship.

A cordial welcome is extended to the community to worship at the First Baptist Church, a church with a program and ministry for all members of the family.

Mission Film Will Be Shown At Uptown Church

"A Cry in the Night," hour-long missionary documentary film, will be shown at the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, 30 Pearl Street, Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

Produced by World Vision, Inc., of Los Angeles, it was filmed in color throughout Asia. The film, the tenth released by World Vision, recently won first place in the documentary division of the Winona Lake Film Festival, an international competition for religious films. It is being premiered in churches across the country in what is described as a unique distribution plan. Churches using it, rather than paying rental fees or taking an offering for the World Vision organization, are required to take an offering for their own foreign missionary program.

"World Vision is a service organization," explains its president, Dr. Bob Pierce, "and we want 'A Cry in the Night' to serve churches themselves, and to help them in their own missionary interests." He points to over 40 denominational and interdenominational missionary organizations receiving "emergency aid" from World Vision, along with over 12,000 children being cared for by the organization in 147 orphanages throughout the Orient.

Grace Community Church Services Slated on Sunday

St. Louis Teenager Aids Deaf to 'Hear' Services

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

A pretty teen-aged girl is playing a vital role in bringing religion to deaf people by way of television.

She is Georgia Dunlap, 16, who interprets the spoken word via sign language to accompany a "Preview of Televangelism 1960" at the Southwest Baptist Church in St. Louis.

For the past two Sundays she has stood beside a television set, feet away and relaying the words to several score deaf people while they watch. She will be doing it again this Sunday.

Experiment in TV

The Southwest Baptist Church is holding the viewing parties as an experimental prelude to the TV dramatic series "The Answer," which will begin in January under the sponsorship of the Southern Baptist Convention's Radio and Television Commission.

Interpreting from the television screen is something new for Georgia, but using sign language to bring religion to deaf people is not.

For the past three years, she has been using her unusual knowledge to help the deaf at Southwest Baptist, beginning as an interpreter on the Sunday School level.

Native of Bronx Named to Head Po'keepsie School

REV. J. G. MATTHEWS

His Eminence Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, recently announced the appointment of the Rev. Joseph G. Matthews to the staff of Our Lady of Lourdes High School, Poughkeepsie, as spiritual director and counselor.

Father Matthews is a native of St. Raymond's Parish, Bronx. He was educated at Cathedral College and Saint Joseph's Seminary, the diocesan seminaries and ordained a priest in January 1945.

That year Father Matthews was assigned to the faculty of Cardinal Hayes High School in the Bronx. While at this boys' diocesan high school, he taught religion and American history from 1945 to 1949. He was guidance director from 1949 to 1954 and the dean of studies from 1954 to 1956. During these years, Father Matthews attended Fordham University and was awarded his Master's Degree in Educational Psychology with a major in guidance in 1951.

In August 1956, he joined the Chaplain Corps of the U. S. Army, attended the Chaplains School at Fort Slocum, and then was stationed with the Third Infantry Division Artillery at Fort Benning, Ga., and Kitzingen, Germany.

Reject Union Ties

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—Employees of Therm Inc. have rejected an attempt of the International Union Electrical Workers to represent them in collective bargaining.

The workers voted 105 to 19 Friday against union representation. A total of 126 were eligible to vote in the National Labor Relations Board election.

New Rector Installed Sunday Extensive Building Plans Set by Ellenville Parish

The first rector of St. John's Episcopal Parish, Ellenville, will be installed and plans for an extensive building program will be blessed Sunday 10:30 a. m. by the Rt. Rev. Charles F. Boynton, Suffragan Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of New York.

The Rev. Ronald A. Smith has been named to parish which includes St. John's Church in Ellenville and the Chapel of the Holy Name, Cragmoor. The chapel now will be open all year for the first time in its history.

St. John's Parish is about to begin an extensive building program which involves the construction of a new parish hall and renovation of the parish church. On Sunday the bishop will also bless the plans for this work during the Sung Eucharist which will follow Father Smith's installation. A reception for the bishop and Father Smith will follow the service in the present parish house of St. John's.

The first rector of St. John's Parish, Father Smith, came to Ellenville during September from St. Paul's Church, Norwalk, Conn., where he was curate since 1956.

Father Smith was born in Cleveland, Ohio, and attended Kenyon College, where he graduated in 1953 with a degree of Bachelor of Arts, Magna Cum Laude. In 1953 he entered General Theological Seminary, the official seminary of the Episcopal Church, in New York City, and received the degree of Bachelor of Sacred Theology from that institution in 1956. Father Smith was ordained deacon by the Bishop of Ohio in June 1956 and ordained priest in January of 1957 at St. Paul's Church, that the rewards and prestige of teaching are high and the applicants to teachers' colleges outnumber the need by five to one. In the United States teacher colleges are eagerly recruiting "even very mediocre students and even those are in short supply."

The United States, "Without shame or conscience, at the height of prosperity and accumulated wealth, has short-changed a whole generation of its children. The much publicized 'crisis-in-education' has been allowed to continue for over a decade."

Exploited for Economy

"America's business community, on local, state and national levels has led an organized campaign to keep school budgets at a mere subsistence level. They have tried to foster the myth that teaching is a sacrificial service and have cynically exploited the teachers and the children in the name of economy."

"Since 1950 two White House Conferences and numerous state conferences on education have been towers of babel to confuse the major issue of adequate school financing. If the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth will be as tough-controlled as the ones I attended, we can foresee a continued betrayal of our children at the highest levels of government."

"We are driven to the inevitable conclusion that despite much pious talk, the people of our country set greater value on the accumulation of status symbols than they do on the education of our children. Yet we have wealth enough for both status and education. What is lacking is a sense of values and strong convictions."

Must Continue Work

"The Empire State Federation of Teachers has no alternative but to continue in its work of counteracting both the open and the clandestine enemies of adequate school financing. Anything less than this would constitute an abandonment of the welfare of the children we serve. Unfortunately, 'educational spokesmen' and parents have offered very feeble opposition to the school tax-fighters and in the years ahead our schools will be under even greater attack than they have been."

"It is up to each local to keep the teachers of its community informed on school financing and to alert them and the parents to the forces that are handicapping their children. We shall carry on a similar campaign on the state level."

Adopt 3 Resolutions

The Kingston Teachers Federation adopted three resolutions prior to convention time Friday:

1. Resolved that a permanent certificate, requiring no renewal, be revived and that all teachers now possessing the permanent, renewable certificate be automatically granted this permanent certificate, and that teachers now employed in public school of this state who do not qualify for the permanent certificate be given a five-year renewable certificate, and that within the 10-year period these teachers must qualify for the permanent certificate, and that these items become part of the Education Law.

2. Resolved that representatives of the Empire State Federation of Teachers to the State Legislature seek sponsorship of legislation which would provide time off in regular school calendars for delegates and members to convene in annual convention.

3. Resolved that all locals, and particularly those in close proximity to teacher education institutions, initiate an extensive publicity campaign which might be considered the overture to a plan for the organization of student units of the federation.

Bambi Wins Divorce

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)—The split-up of dancing partners Bambi Linn and Rod Alexander is now about as final as it can be; they've ended their marriage too. Miss Linn—married in 1957—Rod Alexander, a former Westport—won an uncontested divorce Friday, charging mental cruelty.

Alexander wasn't there. The court was told he was in the Orient on a dance tour.

Another Area Safe

Cracking Job Nets Thieves $375 Cash

Another in a series of safe cracking jobs in the area in the past few weeks resulted in a loss of about $375 in cash taken during Thursday night from the office safe of Watson Oil Company at West Cossackie.

A similar "modus operandi" as in the other jobs at Cairo Sept. 24 and at Saugerties Sept. 17 was apparent.

Safe Damaged
A damaged safe was discovered among scattered record books and papers strewn all over the Watson Oil Company office and the firm's garage, Leeds state police reported.

The entry was discovered when the business was opened at 8 a. m. Friday.

As in the other two safe jobs, the burglars had moved the 2 1/2-foot square safe, described by state police as "fairly heavy" from the office to the adjacent garage where it was pried open. An employee told police that nothing else was taken, however an inventory is in progress.

The thieves apparently broke into the building sometime between 11 p. m. Thursday night and 8 a. m. Friday morning.

The building is located on Route 81, just off Route 9W in the Greene County community. BCI Trooper Joseph Valicenti is investigating.

$1,300 Stolen
In similar operations intruders broke into Lohman's Building Supply Corp., Cairo and made off with about $1,300 taken from a metal container used as a safe in the firm's office.

The Saugerties entry was made in the paper products manufacturing firm of F. L. Russell Corp., Ulster Avenue where a large safe was turned on its back and forced open with some metal object. Only petty cash of less than $20 was missing. Checks totaling over $7,000 were left untouched. Saugerties Police Chief Arthur W. Richter reported.

Kremlin Seizes

trials. They feel it would only touch off bitter East-West debate and heighten tensions eased by the talks between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev.

The bitter exchange which erupted between the Soviet Union and the United States Friday night, when the Tibet item was brought up in the Steering Committee, only served to heighten the neutrals' apprehension. The cold war clash between the two big powers was one of the bitterest the U.N. has heard in some time.

Rough Going Possible
The Soviet's proposals are under the limelight but they may be in for some rough going before the Assembly session is over.

The Soviets left themselves open for Western attack when they told the U.N.'s Political Committee Friday that they opposed detailed examination of disarmament controls until agreement is reached in principle on the Khrushchev plan.

The Western powers have not answered this yet, but the view was expressed privately that the Soviets were still trying to downgrade controls. U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has made plain that he did not feel the Khrushchev plan placed enough emphasis on foolproof international controls.

Macmillan Hopes For Early Summit

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, backed by an overwhelming vote of confidence from the British people, hopes to arrange an East-West summit conference as early as next month, informants said.

Macmillan told the nation Friday night that the sweeping election victory by his Conservative party meant a clear-cut mandate "to play our full part in the constant search for peace."

Macmillan has told President Eisenhower privately he favors quick Western action to take advantage of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's current conciliatory attitude, informants said. Macmillan also fears too long a delay in setting up top-level talks could produce new international tensions.

The British consider November the best month to arrange a summit conference before the American presidential campaign begins to warm up. They are confident Eisenhower will go along with the idea if French President Charles de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer agree.

Yom Kippur Begins At Sundown Sunday

NEW YORK (AP)—Yom Kippur, most solemn day in the Jewish calendar, begins at sundown Sunday for members of the faith throughout the world.

Its name means Day of Atonement. The Bible calls for its observance as a time of fasting, self-examination of one's deeds for the last year and prayer for forgiveness and moral improvement.

Reiterates Claim Board Can Save $20,000 a Year

A claim that the Kingston Board of Education (Consolidated) can earn $20,000 a year in interest accruals and investment was restated today by a spokesman for the Kingston Civic Association in reply to Irving L. Eyles, executive vice president of the Rondout National Bank.

In a statement earlier this week Eyles was critical of a claim by Eugene DeDea, chairman of the education committee of the civic association, that "some banks are willing to pay interest on checking account balances if they are of substantial size and if the bank is guaranteed a specific balance for a specific time."

Refers to Deposit
Eyles pointed out that the Federal Reserve Act forbids payment of interest on checking accounts.

In a statement to The Freeman today DeDea said he was referring to "the use of certificates of deposit."

His statement follows: "The directors of the Kingston Civic Association were quite surprised with the statement that Mr. Eyles released which criticized the method by which we suggested that the board of education earn interest on its money."

"Mr. Eyles is associated with one of the banks in the City of Kingston which handles large deposits of the board of education."

"We feel that had Mr. Eyles studied our proposal, and I quote, 'In today's money market some banks are willing to pay interest on checking account balances if they are of substantial size, and if the bank is guaranteed a specific balance for a specific time,' he should have seen at once that we were suggesting the use of certificates of deposit for the benefit of our taxpayers. Mr. Eyles certainly should know that the use of certificates of deposit is an established banking practice and could be of great benefit to our taxpayers. Mr. Eyles must also be well aware that interest rates on U. S. Treasury bills fluctuate from day to day."

"The Kingston Civic Association is interested in saving money for our taxpayers, and we estimate that the board of education can earn approximately $20,000 a year by proper handling of our 4 1/2 million dollar annual budgetary funds. The regrettable fact is that some plan was not put into effect many years ago. We hope that our taxpayers will receive the cooperation of the bankers of our consolidated school district in this matter."

Slate Drum Corps

area." Hommel said, "and their greatly excited drills have gained the Port Ewen corps widespread popularity along the eastern seaboard. Their annual Pageant of Champions, a drum and bugle corps competition, has become an entertainment fixture in this area."

Hommel said the corps will present a half-hour drill at the entrance to the hotel beginning at 6:30 p. m.

Co-sponsors have participated in numerous drum corps competitions in the past during the past few years, and have captured several first-place awards. The corps represents the Town of Esopus Post No. 1298, American Legion.

Joseph F. Carlinio, recently-elected speaker of the State Assembly, will be the guest speaker at the dinner. The Nassau County Republican has gained the wide recognition as an authority on state government, and is considered to be among the most promising young men in the state GOP organization today.

Carlinio, named speaker of the Assembly after the death of Oswald D. Heck, is a well-known public speaker through his appearances on radio and television. His reputation as one of the most articulate voices in state politics has carried him into most of the state's 62 counties as the featured speaker at hundreds of political as well as non-political functions.

Hommel said today that a few reservations for the dinner still are available, but he described the ticket sale as brisk. The annual dinner was originated last year by the county Republican organization as a testimonial to outstanding political figures, and to serve as a fund-raising function for campaigns.

The remaining available tickets may be obtained from the following:

Marlboro, Patrick Matara of Milton; Lloyd, Charles Meuser and James DeMare of Highland; Shawangunk, Charles E. Penney of Wallkill; Gardner, George H. Ludlow; Rosendale, John Schultz; Rochester, Edward Schoonmaker of Kerhonkson; Ulster, Louis DiDonna; Wawarsing, Edward R. Mance of Ellenville; Kingston, Herbert C. Myers, Lillian Salapatis and Harry Sutton; Shandaken, Martin Johnson; Woodstock, Mrs. Monroe Longendyke; Olive, Lester Davis of West Shokan; New Paltz, Peter J. Savage; Marlborough, John L. Smith; Esopus, William J. Kelley of St. Remy; Denning, Harold VanAken of Soudun; Hardenburgh, Reginald Todd of Arkville; Hurley, Charles Realea, William Schiff; and Saugerties, Chairman Hommel.

Lawyers Endorse Greenberg for Court Post Again

Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg, who was named by Former Governor Harriman and re-appointed by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller to preside over the Extraordinary term of Supreme Court in Ulster County for investigation of alleged "kickbacks" to county officials, has been endorsed by the New York County Lawyers Association for re-election to the Supreme Court First District.

Justice Greenberg, Republican, Democratic and Liberal candidate for re-election, was rated as "outstandingly qualified" while other candidates who received the endorsement of the association were rated "qualified."

Also endorsing Justice Greenberg for re-election to a full 14-year term in New York County is the Association of the Bar of the City of New York.

In placing its stamp of approval on Justice Greenberg, the Association stated that his record on the bench indicated he was "fully qualified" and "well above average" and that his record on the bench "fully justifies" the confidence which has been placed in him.

Since Justice Greenberg has been in Ulster County presiding over session of the extraordinary and trial term of Supreme Court, he has made many friends among local attorneys and residents of the city and county.

When all X-rays have been taken and further tests made on those whose X-rays showed suspicion of tuberculosis it will be possible to find how many active cases of tuberculosis were uncovered by the campaign.

Education Most Vital

"One of the most important results of this survey has been education of the community in the facts about TB," Miss Stead said. She added that during the 19 organizational and educational meetings were held. Over 450 area people volunteered their time to help in the program. Through these volunteers 10,000 persons heard about the project and the value of the chest X-ray in discovering early tuberculosis when it can be cured.

Over 38,000 pieces of literature were made up and distributed through the Ulster County TB and Health Association with Christmas Seals funds. The equipment and technicians from the New York State Department of Health served one unit in the township of Wawarsing, Rochester, Marlborough and Olive from Sept. 28 to Oct. 9.

In Ellenville it was found necessary for the Ulster County TB and Health Association to bring in a private company, Powers X-ray Company, to take care of the numbers who wished an X-ray at that location. Christmas Seals funds financed the second unit.

Praises Volunteers
Dr. Hargrave, expressed great satisfaction at the success of the program and paid tribute to the hundreds of individuals and many organizations who responded to the call to help with the program.

This annual Free Chest X-ray project is sponsored jointly by the official agencies, New York State and Ulster County Departments of Health and Tuberculosis Hospital, and the Ulster County TB and Health Association which is the voluntary group whose work is financed by Christmas Seals.

Townsend Engage To Belgian Girl

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Handsome Peter Townsend is engaged to a pretty Belgian girl bearing a marked resemblance to Britain's Princess Margaret.

The 44-year-old former RAF group captain's engagement to Marie-Luce Jarnagot, 21, daughter of a wealthy tobacco industrialist, was announced Friday night by her mother. She said no wedding date has been set.

Townsend was not available for comment.

Marie-Luce, a petite, dark-eyed brunette known to her friends as Moustique (mosquito), has been assisting the World War II fighter ace in his new job of making documentary films.

Townsend's romance with Princess Margaret ended in 1953 when she made her dramatic statement: "I would like it to be known that I have decided not to marry Group Capt. Peter Townsend."

They obviously were in love. But Townsend is a divorced man. Margaret is deeply religious and the Church of England objects to divorced persons remarrying. Townsend divorced his wife in 1952. She has remarried since.

Chandler in Field

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky Gov. A. B. Chandler wants the nation to know he is a serious, sure-fire starter in the Democratic presidential derby.

He makes his point plain in a familiar Kentucky Derby phrase: "I'm not running for the exercise. I'm running for the roses."

The Kentucky Derby is known as "The Run for the Roses." Chandler, 61, former baseball commissioner, winds up his second term as governor Dec. 8. He could not seek re-election under a state constitution provision banning consecutive terms by the governor.

Steel Strike At-A-Glance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Developments—President Eisenhower invoked Taft-Hartley law Friday, paving way for court order to end 88-day-old steel strike, longest in industry history. Orders three-man fact-finding panel to report back to him by Oct. 16.

Union reaction—Steelworkers' President David J. McDonald says his half-million Steelworkers will comply with federal injunction, if and when it is issued. Many Steelworkers say they are opposed to President's action.

Industry reaction—No immediate comment.

Idle—A half-million Steelworkers and an estimated 200,000 in allied industries. Nearly 90 per cent of the nation's steelmaking facilities are closed by strike.

Wages and production losses—Strikers losing 70 million dollars for many years. The production losses estimated at 300 million dollars a week.

Issues—Union wants 15-cent-an-hour annual wage hike, plus fringe benefits. Industry's offer: 15-cents-per-hour package over next two years, contingent on union giving industry more say over working conditions in mills.

Sees Chances Fading

The mayor said he realized that "to delay a contractor's progress is costly" he felt "that to permit the completion of the project by establishing stationery roadways and traffic islands" would lessen later chances of permitting the requested access to business properties.

"I must frankly state," the mayor wrote, "that the outcome of the (Albany) meeting is, in my opinion, a delaying tactic so that the project will proceed to a completion without adjustments for the business group. Once it is completed changes will be practically out of the question."

"I do, however, look forward to any plan Mr. Beebe may propose, and assure you that if it is feasible, and acceptable, and in the best interests of all concerned, I will press for its adoption."

Confer Several Hours

Beebe, the mayor noted Friday spent "considerable time" Thursday in the project area. He also "drew up preliminary sketches and dimensions, and checked traffic flow." He then met with the mayor for several hours. The mayor produced for him air-view photographs and topographical maps from the city engineer's office.

From information and data gained, he said, the state public works department will "produce a proposed plan for the city to consider for routing traffic through this area."

Linda and her companions, singing or sleeping on the moving bus one minute and tumbling afire into the rain the next, were mourned at the college campus.

The parents of the dead, many of whom had told their families the exciting news of an impending New York trip to see the play "J.B.," made arrangements for burial.

Among the dead was Dr. Ernest F. Sixt, 40, former Fulbright scholar. Sixt had shouted from his rear seat beside his wife: "Don't panic." The girls panicked as the loaded bus became an inferno.

The driver of another truck behind Poe's during the collision told police Poe was doing 35 miles an hour. The bus was slowing to a stop from five miles an hour at a traffic light installed just three months ago.

Ike Gives

week that Eisenhower had set the T-H procedures into motion to end big strikes. Earlier he did it in the East-Gulf Coast docks strike. The longshoremen now are working under an injunction.

The companies have offered what they describe as gains worth 15 cents an hour over two years. The union says the industry offer is actually less but in any event they want 15 cents hourly gain for each year of a new contract. This is over twice what the companies have offered. Complicating the impasse is the company demand for more leeway in making work cost economies.

The Steelworkers were averaging $3.11 hourly before the strike began.

Palace Guards Now Walk Inside Buckingham Gate

LONDON (AP)—

Tourists have driven the Buckingham Palace guard inside the gate. A Yankee may have done it.

They are retreating without a fight—and with a sigh of relief. The War Office came to the rescue Friday of the guardsmen who have marked their paces outside the wrought iron railings of the royal palace with orders to hold their fire—and temper—regardless of provocation.

Sightseers often got in their way and even tried to tempt them to lose their frozen-face poses.

Under the new order effective Oct. 17, the guardsmen will remain on view but do their parade protected by the railing.

The change reportedly stemmed from the complaint of an American woman tourist that she was kicked by a guardsman last summer. The rumpus was hushed up as well, an accident. But for a while it was embarrassing.

Soper Cites

W. Schneider to serve as members of the board of education. I do not wish to personally enter into this controversy except to give you certain information locally available which should be made known to you before you write your reply to Alderman Hastings.

Situation Unchanged
"I think it is important to point out that the State of New York National Bank and the Rondout National Bank have served as depositories for school funds for many years. The presence of both Mr. Herzog and Mr. Schneider has not changed this situation. I mention this to point out that a change of school depositories has not been effected as a result of these gentlemen taking membership on the board."

Question Raised Before
"Some two years ago the question of bank officers holding memberships on the board of education was raised by representatives of the Department of Audit and Control in the customary conference held after the examination of the school district accounts. I am now in a position to advise you that in the case of our four commercial banks, board members are directors or hold stock in all of these commercial banks in the Kingston City School District—Consolidated. It is my understanding that we may not legally deposit school district funds in savings and loan associations."

I sincerely feel that Mr. Hastings and his legal advisors have neglected to check sufficiently on what course of action is open to a board of education when circumstances, as indicated above, exist in a school district.

"It is also my understanding that section 2130 (4) of the Education Law, dated July 8, 1957, and other legal decisions, permit our board of education to do exactly what is being done. In fact, the reference quoted and paraphrased in the School District Law Letter of July 19, 1957, states in part, 'In 1955, however, amendments were made to the statutes (2130-4) which served to complicate the problem of a district in which two banks were located but board members owned small amount of stock in each bank. Another bank in which board members had no interest was located in an adjoining district as its depository but the comptroller held that the legislature did not intend to limit the privilege of a school board to use local banks even though there was a conflict of interests between the school district officers and the bank officers.'

May I encourage you to answer Alderman Hastings' inquiry at your earliest convenience lest the reputation of two of our members of the board of education be placed in jeopardy by our failure to reply to the question which has been raised and the damage which has been done by implication."

Symington Says Democrats Offer Best Leadership

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) said today the Democratic Party is best equipped to direct the world economic contest with Russia.

Symington, who has said he is available for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination, criticized President Eisenhower's course in the steel strike and cast doubt on Vice President Richard M. Nixon's qualifications for the presidency.

While he did not name either of the Republicans, Symington said, in a speech prepared for a Democratic rally, that the country needs leadership that will help production "by seeking to avoid crippling strikes before they occur."

In obvious reference to Nixon's Moscow sparring with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, Symington said:

"The kind of leadership America requires in the years to come must do more than score debaters' points with the Russians."

Symington said "The leadership of the 1960s must be willing to invest in water control, in roads and hospitals and, above all, in the construction of schools so that every child in this country who is willing to sacrifice for an education can obtain that education."

'Mattapan' Offers Many Advantages

Rooms Seven
Bedrooms Three
Closets Ten
Cubage 28,500'
House 7,000'
Dimensions 52' x 26'
Overall 84'

Called "The Mattapan," the house presented today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, is a design that will be popular with many prospective builders.

Masonry or wood can be used with equal success on the exterior of this one-story house. And, whether you plan to build in the city, the suburbs or in the country this style of a house will be right "at home."

Measurements
With overall measurements of 84 by 52 feet, the house has a cubage of 28,500 feet. Garage cubage is 7,000 feet. You'll need a lot of approximately 110 feet on which to build this house complete with the attached two-car garage.

Two large bedrooms are placed in the right wing of the house. Each features excellent lighting and cross ventilation and has a spacious closet storage space.

The large bathroom—which has both a tub and a shower—is located conveniently near to the bedrooms. And, any housewife would give a big cheer for the extra-sized linen closet opening on the central hallway near to both the bedrooms and the bath.

For added convenience a lavatory opens off the entry hall where it is especially handy to the living room, den and kitchen.

Guest Room or Den
If you want three bedrooms or need a guest room, you can use the den for either of these purposes very easily. And, if you only need a guest room occasionally you can use this room as a combination den-guest room.

Both a living room and a dining room are provided for in this plan; each of these rooms is of generous size. Built-in book shelves are suggested for the living room; corner china cabinets are suggested for the dining room.

The glass porch—which connects the house and garage—can be enclosed and made into a regular room, if you prefer. Both the laundry and the heating plant must be placed in the basement. The former should be located under the kitchen or bath and the latter under the living room.

Blueprints Available
Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available. Address requests to Home of the Week, Inc. Dept. KF, 87 Weybosset Street, Providence, R. I.

Veterans Rights and Benefits Listed

By Charles L. Culver, NYS Veteran Counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, and John B. Tyler, Director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency.

Bonus: Payment of a Korean bonus has been authorized by the state of Pennsylvania for U. S. Armed Forces veterans with honorable service. The maximum bonus payment is $500. This state benefit will be paid at the rate of $15 a month for each month in the Korean war theater and $10 a month for each month outside of that war theater. There are also provisions for payments to surviving dependents of deceased eligible servicemen and veterans. Application forms for the bonus are not yet available but are expected to be made available during October.

Civil Service—Competitive examinations are scheduled for December 5, 1959 for another group of New York State Civil Service positions. Applications for these jobs will be accepted up to November 2, 1959. Supervisor of Social Work (Adoption), Supervisor of Social Work (Medical), Supervising Medical Social Worker, Senior Social Case Worker (Child Welfare), Senior Social Case Worker (Public Assistance), Social Case Worker, Veterinarian, Senior Histology Technician, Camp Sanitary Aid, Senior Library Supervisor, Liquor Control Officer, Professional Career Tests, Public Administration Internships, Senior Biostatistician, Research Analyst (Banking), Research Analyst (Equalization and Assessment), Research Analyst (Rent), Director of Public Works Laboratory (file by Nov. 9), Principal Draftsman and Senior Draftsman.

Applications should be filed by November 9, 1959 for the positions of Senior Engineering Examiner and Associate Engineering Examiner. The examination for these titles will be held on December 12, 1959.

Pension—All non-service connected pension claims which were denied on and after August 29, 1959 will be automatically reviewed by the Veterans Administration in connection with the new pension law which goes into effect July 1, 1960. One factor in individual cases which will be reviewed is income and if eligibility appears to exist under the new law claimants will be notified of their prospects under the new pension program. Claims for non-service pension which were denied before August 29, 1959 will not be automatically reviewed. It is also possible that some other potential claimants may be overlooked in the automatic review. Persons, therefore, who have made application for non-service connected pension and have been denied are urged to visit this agency to discuss their particular claims for pension in relation to the new pension program.

New Laws—Additional categories of severely disabled veterans are now included under PL 86-239 as eligibles for homes with special facilities. Under the provisions of this new law veterans who have compensable service-connected permanent and total disabilities caused by blindness in both eyes having only light perception are now included in the VA special housing program for seriously disabled veterans. Other veterans also included in the special housing program are those who have suffered the loss or loss of use of one extremity which precludes locomotion without the aid of a wheelchair.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the NYS Division of Veterans' Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency at 32 Main Street, Kingston, New York or any of the branch offices in Saugerties, Highland, Ellenville and Kerhonkson.

Textured Paneled Walls for Variety

Textured paneled walls, of one kind or another, give the do-it-yourself homeowner a wide choice of interesting effects. Remember that the average room has a wider expanse, collectively, in its walls than either ceiling or floor. For this reason, a selection of or a mixing of plywood textured panels, or squares, will give that "home" atmosphere and decorative quality often missing in a room. There is a choice of color, kinds of wood, types of texturing, and plain surfaces for relief. Such panels can be applied unfinished, or they can be had pre-finished. The woods run all the way from Douglas fir to Philippine mahogany. Textured paneling gives a sort of third dimension to the wall.

Washington Man Purchases Former J. P. McEvoy Estate

A Woodstock landmark that was a nationally famous pre-war rendezvous for towering literary figures has been sold for the second time in recent years.

The former J. P. McEvoy estate, one of the largest and most impressive properties in the Woodstock vicinity, has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Berberich of Washington, D. C. from WHAM Oil, Inc., a leading area oil distributor. It is located on Route 212, a short distance from the heart of Woodstock.

This beautiful property consists of three dwelling units, numerous outbuildings, swimming pool, tennis courts and many other luxurious features located on some 22 acres with extensive frontage along the Bearsville Road. Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Rupp resided on the estate until recently.

Participating brokers in the transaction were Cornelius V. V. Sewell of Woodstock and Morris and Citroen of Kingston. Mr. and Mrs. Berberich plan to make Woodstock their permanent home.

Stated in 1924

J. P. McEvoy built the fabulous estate from a humble beginning, starting in 1924 when he first came to Woodstock. The original property consisted of a small farmhouse, a garage and an old barn. In due time, McEvoy, a nationally prominent playwright and fiction writer, was to pour more than $75,000 into additions and renovations.

The barn, which eventually was beautifully furnished and decorated, achieved a measure of fame in its own right as a restaurant.

In short time, the burgeoning McEvoy residence was bustling at the seams with a steady influx of prominent personalities from the world of art, music and letters. McEvoy, also widely known as an associate editor of Reader's Digest, continued to make additions and improvements.

Goldberg Letter Disputes Item On Town Budget

The following letter has been submitted to this column by attorney Maurice Goldberg of Wittenberg and Kingston:

"In the Oct. 7 issue of an area newspaper, under Woodstock Area News, a lengthy report was prominently entitled: 'Minority Members in Walkout During Stormy Town Board Meeting on Budget Estimates.' Since the only professional 'unbiased' reporter present covering the meeting bears the same surname as the writer of the said article, I must assume that the article was his. Further, since said 'impartial' reporter is a candidate on three opposition tickets for Woodstock supervisor, it can hardly be said that the article was slanted favorably to the benefit of the majority board members, the town legal adviser or myself, all of whom are proudly avowed Republicans.

"Many of the quotations reprinted were taken out of context, some were inaccurate and the entire report seeks to create an artificial atmosphere for an unjustified act, which was perpetrated in the height of bad manners. The walkout took place when the chair recognized my desire to rise and speak objectively on a subject of which I am presumed to be an expert, namely that of law. Since one of the minority walkers on past occasion has publicly sought my counsel in town matters, and the said reporter has likewise consulted me, I could not and do not understand the reason for the walkout, except that it was motivated by ulterior political, opportunist considerations.

"The reporter who stayed on and heard me explain the 'caution' he mentions, did not see fit to print my remarks. Therefore, I ask that my statements be set forth herein.

"I stated that I desired to reassure the minority members of the Board that the action of approving the temporary budget that evening did not foreclose their right to study the estimates on file with the Town Clerk since Sept. 30, 1959; that under Section 113 of the Town Law, a public hearing must be held on or before Nov. 5, with required advance publication and notice, at which time the Board must review the budget, and that within five days after such public hearing, the Board must finally adopt the same. Under law, therefore, the minority members had, as I stated, plenty of time to go over the estimate and the temporary budget and argue out the same at the public hearing and final adoption meeting.

"I challenge the minority members who so rudely walked out on me, and the reporter, to deny these statements of mine. I am prepared to repeat them under oath.

"The question then arises: 'Why did the reporter (who was supposed to be unprejudiced)

The law of diminishing returns once overcame McEvoy, who was inspired to write his famous humorous tome, 'From Host to Guest,' a whimsical reference to the constantly overcrowded quarters.

An early associate of McEvoy's relates that during one hectic weekend almost the entire membership of the American Society of Artists and Illustrators attended a fabulous weekend party. In his constant search for one bit of space for a private studio of his own, McEvoy kept building additions that were promptly pre-empted by distinguished guests. The place just grew and grew.

The Literary Giants

The list of names who made frequent trips to visit with J. P. included the literary giants of the day, among the many who knew him were members of the famous Round Table group of The New Yorker — Dorothy Parker, Monty Woolley, Woolcott Gibbs, Franklin P. Adams and John Striebel, a budding cartoonist who went on to earn fame as the creator of the cartoon strip, Dixie Dugan. Striebel has been a resident of Woodstock for many years.

McEvoy was a great crony of Frank Case, who operated the Algonquin Hotel in New York City, rendezvous for the world literati. And from the Algonquin coterie came many to luxuriate in the fabulous hospitality of the pristine Woodstock and McEvoy.

From outside the literary world came Frank Lloyd Wright, the famed architect; the great criminal lawyer, Clarence Darrow; Rube Goldberg, the cartoonist; Jeff Macomber, a cartoonist; George Antile, noted composer who spent a whole summer in Woodstock, and many others. McEvoy's was the social and cultural center of Woodstock, a symbol of an era that has passed forever.

stand up and cause such confusion and why the unprovoked walkout? Rumors had reached me before the meeting, that an incident had been planned and that commotion and confusion and a possible walkout might take place. What did happen lends considerable credence to such rumors. I had not expected to see the day when such a disgraceful exhibition would take place in Woodstock. It was only an added link to the chain of

Atlas Is Fired, Destroy Bomarc

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force launched its versatile Atlas missile on an intercontinental range flight Friday night.

The 85-foot Atlas, a potent war weapon slated to shoulder the U.S. space burden, shot over the Atlantic on what appeared to be a perfect launch.

Across the state at Eglin Air Force Base, a 47-foot Bomarc was destroyed because of technical difficulties seconds after launching and fell into the Gulf of Mexico.

This was the third test at the Cape for the big Atlas missile since it was declared operational last month. All three were aimed at improving accuracy.

Until the U.S. builds more powerful space vehicles, the Atlas is expected to carry much of the load. A four-stage Atlas-Able rocket is being readied to place a satellite about the moon. A similar shot was postponed earlier this month because the Atlas-Able assigned to the job exploded during an engine test.

An informed source said Friday that the moon shot, expected late in November, is one of four space launches on the U.S. schedule here this year. The others are an experimental transit navigation satellite, to be boosted aloft by a Thor-Able, and two scientific satellites to be carried by Juno II rockets.

Edgar Baker, member of the Official Board and chairman of the Membership Evangelism Commission, will speak in the Wittenberg Church, with other laymen taking part in the service.

Henry Eighmey of Kingston and Shady, will be the speaker in the Methodist Church at Shady. Other laymen will assist him in the service.

The schedule for services in the Woodstock Methodist parish is: Wittenberg, church at 9:30 a. m., Sunday school, 10:30 a. m.; Woodstock, church at 11 a. m., Sunday school at 10 a. m., Shady, church at 7:30 p. m., Sunday school at 10:30 a. m.

Other committees are as follows: Social, Miss Helen Tompkins; good cheer, Mrs. John Lurvey; budget, Mrs. George Goodwin; public relations, Mrs. Max Brown.

The social committee will

Week's Business Review

By WILLIAM FERRIS
NEW YORK (AP) — You don't notice it at all at first.

The mills shut down, and that's tough in the steel towns, but elsewhere the nation's economy hums along pretty much as it has been. It lives off the fat.

Then you start to notice it: Lay-offs spread, work hours are reduced, consumer buying slackens, plans for future expansion are held up.

Significant Items

The steel strike had reached the point where you noticed it this week.

Here were significant items: Mighty General Motors, the nation's largest corporation, had 12,000 employees out of work as a direct result of the steel strike. The number mounted daily.

If this condition exists at GM, it must exist in smaller steel-using companies with much less influence in procuring steel than the giant motor company.

Retail sales lagged behind a year ago this week and Dun & Bradstreet said the steel strike was partly to blame. Sales of new cars, auto company executives admit, have fallen off in the last two weeks.

Tool Orders Drop

New orders for machine tools have dropped from the early summer level. Business sales and inventories have slumped, partly because of the steel strike. Contracts for future building construction fell a substantial 11 percent below 1958 in August.

Purchasing agents are convinced that, even with an immediate return of workers to steel mills, there will be a period when companies which use steel will have to reduce production.

This is because pipe lines and empty, must be refilled. A trade magazine warns layoffs will continue to spread after the strike ends.

"Getting some semblance of order in the flow of shipments will take months, not weeks," says Iron Age Magazine.

See New Economy Surge

All this should not reverse the current upswing in the business cycle, which has been under way since April 1958. In fact, it could prolong the length of that upswing.

Undersecretary of Commerce Phillip A. Ray told a Senate Unemployment Committee this week, "we may look for a renewed surge" in the economy when the steel strike ends. Most economists and businessmen probably would agree.

Stock sales for the latest week totaled 11,862,845 shares compared with 13,638,990 in the week before and 19,104,940 in the same week a year ago. Bond sales in the last week had a par value of $27,520,000 against $31,419,000 the previous week and $30,098,000 in the same 1958 week.

Perishables Get Dock Priority

NEW YORK (AP) — Perishables continued to receive priority today as longshoremen loaded and unloaded a backlog of cargo that had accumulated during their eight-day strike.

Ports from Maine to Texas came back to life Friday as 85,000 dockers obeyed a federal court order enjoining the strike. Rain handicapped the operations at some Atlantic ports.

Priority was given 12 vessels that had arrived here and at Southern ports with 30-million dollars in perishables, mostly bananas. In some cases, the fruit was near spoiling. Shippers estimate the strike cost them about 160 million dollars.

President Eisenhower invoked the Taft-Hartley Law Tuesday against the International Longshoremen's Assn. A temporary restraining order was obtained here Thursday, is expected to complete the legal steps for a cooling off period that will ban further striking by the ILLA until Dec. 28.

Contract talks are scheduled to resume here Oct. 19.

Automation is the key issue in the disagreement between the union and the New York Shipping Assn., which bargains for shippers from Maine to Virginia. Traditionally, their contract sets the pattern for other pacts between the ILLA and shippers farther south. The ILLA wants a pact that would force shippers to confer with union leaders on any new method of loading and unloading that would cut personnel.

The last money offer made by the shippers was a 30-cent-an-hour package over a three-year period. The union wants a 40-cent package with the automation provision. Wages now average $2.80 an hour.

Business in Brief

Briefly over the business scene: Here's a switch: Screw & Bolt Corp. of America, closed down by the steel strike, has offered loans to any of its striking workers who are hard up. "Of course," says the president, "loans will be interest-free."

Pan American World Airways has begun twice-a-week "round the world" jet service. Ten stops will be made and it will take two days.

Cheap pork pleases consumers but low hog prices arouse farmers. Small groups of farmers at Kansas City, and St. Joseph livestock yards tried to prevent trucks from unloading hogs.

Diamonds are even better friends with girls: sales for the first nine months this year exceeded all of 1958. The president of Schenley Industries Inc. said Americans eventually will be buying liquor in smaller bottles. "It's the answer, he said, to increased taxes and rising costs."

Migrant Worker Faces Stabbing Indictment

WAMPSPVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — Nathaniel Bolder, 48, of Winston-Salem, N. C., has been indicted on a charge of first-degree manslaughter in the stabbing of a fellow migrant worker Sept. 3.

Bolder had been held on a charge Friday by a Madison County grand jury.

Bolder is accused of stabbing Curtis Rankins during an argument at Poolville.

New Alumnae Group Will Be Formed Here

Area graduates of the College of Saint Rose will hold their first meeting at a tea Saturday, Oct. 17 from 2 to 5 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Joseph A. Smith, 46 Mountainview Avenue, Hurley. Plans for the adoption of a charter and chapter organization will be discussed with Mrs. Clement P. Becker and Mrs. John W. Cullen of Albany, president and executive secretary of the College of Saint Rose Alumnae Association. It is planned that the local chapter will include graduates from the Kingston and Red Hook-Rhinecliff area.

At an organization meeting Sept. 15 Mrs. Joseph A. Smith was elected chairman of the tea with Mrs. John E. Conway, reception chairman and Mrs. Joseph D. Jordan, publicity chairman. Miss Anne Bennisson is in charge of invitations assisted by Miss Mary M. Tierney, Mrs. Edgar Fisher and Mrs. Vincent Cahill.

The College of Saint Rose in Albany is a Catholic women's college conducted by the Sisters of Saint Joseph of Carondelet. It is accredited by the Regents of the University of the State of New York and the Middle States Association of Colleges and is affiliated with the Catholic University of America. In addition to Bachelor's degrees in the Arts and Sciences the College has been accredited since 1951 to accept candidates for the Master of Arts and Master of Science degrees.

Any area graduates who have not been contacted may call Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mrs. Joseph Jordan, or, in the Rhinecliff area, Mrs. Edgar Fisher.

Dutchess County Symphony Achieves First Class Rating

It has been reported that the Dutchess County Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra has attained a first class status.

The orchestra, which now consists solely of professional musicians, played to a sell-out house on Sunday under the direction of Claude Monteaux. Mr. Monteaux also appeared as solo flutist.

It is also reported there is a strong possibility the orchestra may give a concert in Kingston next spring.

Special Education Teachers Will Attend Fall Conference October 17 in Kingston

Kingston will play host to a large delegation of educators, professional personnel in the fields of psychiatry, psychology, medicine and social services, parents and lay-persons as they gather for the semi-annual fall conference of the Special Education Teachers' Association of Southeastern New York.

The meeting is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 17 according to Mrs. Dorothy W. Buchring, SETA president, and special education teacher on the staff at the Myron J. Michael Junior High School.

This fall conference is of special significance as it marks the tenth anniversary of the founding of the association. In early November of 1949, special education teachers and educators from 10 cities and towns throughout the mid-Hudson valley assembled at Bethany Hall, Old Dutch Church, Kingston, for the purpose of organizing an association of special education teachers in the eastern area of the state, similar to the Special Education Teachers' Association of Western New York. Under the capable guidance of Mrs. Carolyn Walker, special education teacher of Kingston, and first association president, SETA was formally instituted. Assisting in an advisory capacity as consultant of the day was Mrs. Buchring, past president of the Special Education Teachers' Association of Western New York, serving at the time as public relations chairman of the Western organization.

From a modest beginning in which the organization encompassed some four counties throughout the mid-Hudson, the association has steadily developed and expanded. Now the membership roster includes several hundred teachers, educators and professional persons.

It also includes parents of mentally retarded children throughout the eastern part of the state. Counties represented within the organization include Ulster, Dutchess, Orange, Sullivan, Putnam, Greene, Westchester, Rockland, Delaware and Columbia.

In like manner, a parent organization, known as the Association for the Help of Retarded Children came into prominence during the past decade on a state level. Although organized for the welfare of the mentally handicapped of all ages, each chapter operating as a unit of the State AHRC, works in close liaison with special education teachers. "Furthering this relationship and emphasizing a common unity of purpose, the Ulster County Chapter AHRC will co-sponsor the fall conference, James F. Edgerton, Ulster County AHRC president, announced today.

Other members of the joint steering committee for the occasion include: Mrs. Norma Kidd, Mrs. Hilda Sherlock, Mrs. Carolyn Walker, Mrs. Fern Fajfeta, Mrs. Janice Gaines, Miss Edna Merritt, Miss June Thompson, Henry Paley and Donald Muller, all members of the special education department of the Kingston Public Schools; Mrs. Bessie Payne, director, Little Red Schoolhouse, Poughkeepsie; Miss Helen Parker, special education teacher, Beacon; Mrs. Charlotte Peck, AHRC advisor; Miss Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Fred Craft, Mrs. Emil DeLuca, Mrs. James Pfeiffer, Mrs. Arthur Eymann, Mrs. Robert West, and Mrs. Robert Mayers, members of the Board of Directors, Ulster County Chapter, AHRC; and Mrs. Bradford Dodd, executive director, Orange County AHRC Chapter, at Middletown.

Josephine Patricia Ferraro Exchanges Vows With William Leonard Reynolds

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM L. REYNOLDS
(Tom Reynolds photo)

Miss Josephine Patricia Ferraro, daughter of Mrs. Josephine Ferraro of Glasco, and the late Louis Ferraro, exchanged nuptial vows with William Leonard Reynolds of Saugerties, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Reynolds, Sunday, Oct. 4, at 1:30 p. m. St. Joseph's Church, Glasco.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Archibald V. Damm.

Yellow and white pompons decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Jacob Ferraro. She wore an imported Italian lace over satin gown with pearl headpiece of rhinestones which held a long tulle veil. She carried a white Bible with white orchids.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her niece, Palmy Sucato of Poughkeepsie. Miss Sucato wore an aqua blue gown with matching pearl headpiece and tulle veil. She carried pink roses.

Serving as bridesmaids were Rosemarie Costello of East Kingston, Mary Louise Ascenzo of Glasco and Karen Hornbeck of Saugerties.

Their gowns of American Beauty Rose were styled identically to that of the honor attendant's. They carried pink roses.

Robert Reynolds of Saugerties was best man for his brother.

Also included in the bridal party were the bride's nephews George Uhl and Joseph Uhl of Sleightsburgh, Dominic Paconci and Anthony DiMasso of Poughkeepsie.

Ushers were Peter Ferraro of Albany, the bride's brother, Thomas Paconci of Poughkeepsie, and Bertrum Quick of Saugerties.

More than 200 guests were entertained at a reception given in Schoentag's Hotel, Glasco.

The bride is employed by the Kingston Knitting Mills. Her husband, an alumnus of Saugerties High School, is also employed by Kingston Knitting Mills.

For her wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the bride wore a navy blue suit with matching accessories and a white orchid.

Jersey Airman Is Killed in Orange County Mishap

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—Air Force Sgt. Raymond Kutyla, 23, of Navesink, N. J., was killed early today in a car accident.

Police said a vehicle driven by Kutyla ran off a country road near here and crashed into a tree about 12:40 a. m. The airman, stationed at nearby Stewart Air Force Base, died in St. Luke's Hospital at 5:03 a. m.

A companion, Carol Sager, 18, of Newburgh, was taken to the hospital in a critical condition.

Home Extension Service News

Miss Adaline Snellman, clothing specialist from Cornell University met on October 1 with 20 leaders of Home Demonstration units to teach a project on Posture and Relaxation.

The need for daily relaxation in a hurried world is important. The group did simple exercises to relieve muscle tensions, and learned the proper method of lifting, bending and walking. The film "Take It Easy," a production of the Heart Association, was shown as part of the lesson.

Professor Joseph Wagner, Family Life Specialist from Cornell University, met October 6 at Kingston with 13 unit leaders for the Home Demonstration project "What Makes a Good Home: The Beginnings of Emotional Health."

A good home should be "people" centered and not revolve around one individual or group of individuals. Professor Wagner spoke of the ability to learn to listen as well as talk with members within a home, so that both thoughts and feelings are shared. This will give a feeling of good emotional health and family security.

Apples Arrive in Number

Apple harvest will reach a peak in October this year. From now through winter and spring for some varieties and through summer for other specially treated ones, markets will be stocked with plenty of fresh apples. Some varieties of apples are best for eating raw, while others are preferred for cooking and baking, and still others are generally accepted all-purpose apples. Learn to recognize apple varieties, then match the variety with intended use.

Hudson Valley apple numbers are up this year. The Hudson Valley apple-producing area, a metropolitan New York's major apple supplier at this time of year, is expected to have more apples this year than last. Harvest of McIntosh is at a peak now and supplies are heavy. Cortland and Red Delicious varieties are also in heavy supply while Rhode Island Greenings are in good supply, according to William H. Palmer, Agricultural Agent in Ulster County, New York. Mr. Palmer reports that apples matured a little earlier this year than last and so harvest started a few days early. Quality—including color and sugar content—is reported excellent. This year's apples have a higher sugar content than last, which Mr. Palmer attributes to the type of growing season.

Select apples which are best suited to the use to which you will put them. Apples for baking whole, baked rings, and dumplings should retain their shape after cooking. Apples for sauce should not retain their shape in cooking. Pie apples should have a tart pronounced apple flavor. Apples for eating raw should have a tart but sweet flavor. Apples for salads and fruit cups should resist darkening. If served with the skins on, diced fresh apples will add color to the salad or fruit cup.

At The Markets

FRUIT: New York State pears continue to be plentiful as well as Bosc, Anjou, and Bartlett pears from the West Coast. Seedless grapes remain plentiful at slightly higher prices. The watermelon season is about over but prices are still reasonable. Citrus fruit is moderately priced.

VEGETABLES: Despite somewhat higher prices, many fresh vegetables still offer top values. Chief among them are white potatoes from Long Island, New Jersey, and other producing areas. Sweet potatoes are in greater supply with New Jersey becoming the major supplier. Onions continue low in price. Acorn and butternut squash, cucumbers, cabbage, carrots, mushrooms, radishes, and tomatoes remain in good market volume at reasonable prices.

FISH: Leading species of fresh fish include porgies, whiting, small and medium flounders, haddock, pollock, and Boston mackerel. Shellfish in season include shrimp, scallops, and oysters.

DAIRY PRODUCTS: Supplies of milk, though declining seasonally, are ample to fulfill consumer needs. Manufactured dairy products are also in good supply, particularly cheese with stocks at record high levels on August 1. Cheese is an excellent low-cost protein, is adapted to many uses ranging from appetizers through main courses, to desserts. The different kinds and flavors of cheese make them desirable seasoning agents.

MEAT: A stepped up rate of cattle markings has brought lower wholesale prices which have not yet been reflected at the retail level. Reports of cattle on feed indicate a sharp increase over last year. This means more high quality cuts in future months. Pork prices continue well below year ago levels, reflecting the heavy supplies. Broilers, stewing chickens, and turkeys remain good values.

Damage $100,000 In Oswego Fire

OSWEGO, N. Y. (AP)—Fire heavily damaged a four-story business building in downtown Oswego Friday night. The loss was estimated at more than $100,000. The flames swept a jewelry store and a shoe store. Smoke and water damaged four other business establishments in the building on West First Street. One fireman was overcome by smoke. He was treated at a hospital and returned to duty. Fire Chief Monte Lass estimated the damage. The cause of the fire was not determined.

New Rochelle Snaps Kingston High Unbeaten Streak, 21-6

Saugerties High Gets 26-0 Decision Over Liberty Eleven

Visitors Tally On Pass Plays In First Half Defeat Is First For KHS Players In Almost 4 Years

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

New Rochelle High School came to Dietz Stadium for revenge last night and before a crowd of better than 2,500 spectators, the Westchester County gridders struck for touchdowns on three pass plays in the first half and halted Kingston High School, 21-6, thus putting an end to a spectacular 25 game streak without a loss for Bill Burke's Maroon players.

The last time a Kingston High football team was beaten prior to last night was in November, 1955, when the Poughkeepsie Pioneers won a 13-0 decision at Riverview Field in the Bridge City. Since that time, 24 opponents had been beaten and one—Vincennes Institute of Albany—played the Maroon to a 7-7 tie.

This was practically the same New Rochelle eleven that was bombarded, 38-19, by Hobie Armstrong and Co. last season. Quarterback Dennis Barrett, a 155-lb. junior, took control of the situation early in the game and by halftime had thrown the pigskin eight times and completed the same number of passes with unerring accuracy. It proved to be the difference in the game.

Barrett passed 17 yards to end Dick Roundtree in the first quarter for a score. Early in the second stanza, he threw a 37-yard pass to Gus Stenroos for the second score and just before halftime, the quarterback completed a short seven yard toss to Roundtree for the final TD.

Kingston tallied midway in the second period, between the second and third touchdowns by New Rochelle, as quarterback Cliff Miller completed a pass to Tony Corkery. The play covered 47 yards.

Kingston won the toss and elected to receive. The locals put the ball in play on the 44 and gained nine yards in three cracks at the line. Vinnie Smedes punted to the NR 34.

The visitors showed their power early as they moved to the KHS 20. However, a clipping penalty shoved the pigskin back to the 46 and ended the first threat of the evening. On fourth down, end Bruce Bromley booted the first of his booming punts, the ball rolling dead on the Kingston eight yard stripe.

75 Yards for Score
Midway in the period, the visitors took Maroon punt on the 25 and from there they went 75 yards for a score. Halfback Arnie Austin, a shifty runner, went 21 to the 46 in his first try from scrimmage to start the march.

Barrett then threw a short jump pass to Roundtree. He went to the KHS 37 before being brought down and the Westchester County club was off and running.

After Austin went seven yards to the 30, Barrett threw to Bromley for a first down on the 20. Then, after the visitors were penalized five yards for being offside, Austin went eight to the 17 and Barrett then tossed to Roundtree for the TD. Frank Prosek booted the first of his three extra points.

Kingston started a threat in the opening moments of the second quarter, going down to the NR 32. However, the locals lost 15 yards in three subsequent plays and were forced to punt. Smedes had his punt blocked on the NR 46 and the winners were on the march again.

This time Bromley quick kicked on third down and the pigskin stopped dead on the Kingston two yard stripe. Smedes punted on fourth down to the 37. From there it took only one play to hit paydirt.

Barrett faded back on first down and spotted Stenroos running along the right side. He hit him with a perfect bullet and the halfback, who had drifted behind defender Smedes, ran into the end zone untouched. Prosek then booted the PAT.

Corkery Scores

Moments later, the locals electrified the crowd with a spectacular play. After Bob Keating had uncorked a nifty 16 yard run to move the pigskin past the 50, Miller passed long to Corkery, who was racing down the left sideline. Terry made a neat over-the-shoulder catch and scored. Bob Decker was stopped on his extra point try.

This only served to arouse the visitors once more. They put the kickoff in play on the 40 and it took Mr. Barrett only three passes to score again. Dennis Barrett then threw a 20 yard gain to start the ball rolling. Then he and Stenroos combined for a 33 yard pass play which moved the ball to the seven. From there Barrett hit Roundtree in the end zone. Prosek again booted the point.

In the second half, the visitors stuck to the ground and threw only one pass. On that one, Stenroos dropped it with a clear field ahead of him.

Kingston reached the New Rochelle 33 in the third period and got as far as the 34 in the last stanza, but the locals were repulsed each time. In the closing moments of the tilt, the winners drove to the ten where they fumbled. Smedes recovered it in the end zone for a touchback.

With time running out, NR started a drive from the Kingston 35 which reached the three yard stripe as the game ended. Austin was the big wheel in this drive.

GRIDIRON JOTTINGS: Two towers of lights went out about a half hour before the game started and only one of them was able to be turned on before the start of the contest and one part of the field was in complete darkness. The gridiron was wet and muddy in spots, but the overall surface was good. The Kingston band entertained during the halftime intermission with several eye appealing songs. New Rochelle had a good portion of rooters on hand. They were waiting to see if lightning could strike twice in a row to their gridders. It didn't. Bob Jenkins was the best of the Kingston linemen. He played an outstanding game in a losing cause. Barrett and Austin were a powerful two-man combination for the visitors.

No Season for Hen Pheasants

There is no season for hen pheasants in Ulster County this year, District Game Protector Bryan Burgin of the Kingston office said today. He said there has been some misunderstanding about the regulations.

Sunday hunting for cock pheasant is permitted in Ulster, with the season extending from Monday, Oct. 26, at 9 a. m., EST through Saturday, Nov. 14.

Burgin also noted that the migratory waterfowl stamp, the so-called "duck stamp" is not required to hunt woodcock. It applies only to migratory waterfowl, not woodcock.

Arlington Raps Roosevelt, 39-6

Scoring one of the most lopsided wins in their long series, Arlington High players walloped hapless Roosevelt, 39-6, last night at Riverview Field to stay in contention for DCSL honors.

Coach Fritz Jordan's players roared to a 21-0 halftime lead even though they were penalized 100 yards.

The winners scored on the first play of the second quarter when halfback Don Marchese went over from the six to climax a 100 yard drive. Les Bierman made the extra point.

A recovered fumble and a run led to the second score and Bill Lasko tallied the third touchdown when he went over from the four to climax a 60 yard drive. Barry Ireland caught passes for both points.

Ireland recovered a fumble on the 31 in the third period and Marchese went over from the six three plays later. Reserve quarterback Ed Bahret pegged 15 yards to Ricky Wilhelm for a TD later in the period.

The Presidents tallied in the fourth stanza after they defeated a pass. Bill Terry scored from the five. Bahret went over from the one for Arlington near the end of the tilt to climax a 60 yard surge.

Big Tilts Set For NFL Play This Weekend

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The way things have been going in the National Football League, this is the week everybody plays a tie.

For eight of the 12 NFL teams, it's been a win one, lose one proposition in the first two weeks. The only unbeaten teams, the San Francisco 49ers and Green Bay Packers—both 2-0, were among those tabbed in preseason as favorites as least likely to succeed.

One of the two winless clubs, Los Angeles (0-2 along with Detroit's Lions), was figured a top challenger to World Champion Baltimore's Western Division crown.

Things are so jumbled, all six Eastern Division clubs are 1-1, all tied for the top and bottom. The schedule, first six-game Sunday slate of the year, puts the unbeaten—San Francisco and Green Bay—against each other at Green Bay. The Packers, who've blended a toughened defense and spruced-up offense under Coach Vince Lombardi into victories over the Chicago Bears and the Lions, are tabbed a three-point favorite.

In the others, Baltimore is a seven-point pick over the Lions at Detroit, the Rams 7½-point underdogs to the Bears at Chicago, the New York Giants 3½ underdogs to the Browns at Cleveland, the Philadelphia Eagles—two-point choices over the Pittsburgh Steelers at Philadelphia, and the Chicago Cards and the Redskins pick 'em at Washington.

Sawyers Notch First Victory: Talmadge Stars

With halfback Russ Talmadge in a starring role, the Saugerties High School gridders broke a three game win famine by dumping Liberty, 26-0, last night at the high school field. Playing their best game of the season, the Sawyers tallied touchdowns in the last three periods to win handily.

The Indians, who have now dropped four straight, reached the Saugerties one yard stripe early in the first period but they were repulsed and had to surrender the ball on downs. That was their last threat of the evening.

Early in the second period, Talmadge took a pitchout on his own 21, went through tackle, cut to the left and raced 79 yards to paydirt. Ted Olson missed the attempted extra point.

Another Drive
The Sawyers put the third quarter kickoff in play on the 20 and went 80 yards in a series of 12 line plays. Talmadge, Al Hrdlicka and Bob Francello took turns lugging the pigskin and they marched to five first downs to the Liberty seven from where Talmadge went over guard for the TD. Francello passed to Bill Lezette for the extra point.

Later in the quarter, the Sawyers put a Liberty punt in play on the Indians' 38. Talmadge went six yards to the 32 to start the drive. Then Francello passed 31 yards to Steve Dickhaut to move the ball to the one from where Hrdlicka bulled over for the score. Olson booted the PAT.

Francello finished the scoring for the night when he intercepted a Redskins pass on the 38 in the fourth period, picked up three blockers and then went down the sidelines for a touchdown. The point was missed.

Liberty failed to register a first down in the second half as the SHS forward wall put the clamps on the speedy Indian backs.

The Sawyers are now 1-2-1 for the season.

Kingston Soccer Match on Sunday

Undefeated in three straight contests in the Central New York State Soccer Association, the Kingston Sport Club takes on the Poughkeepsie Blue and Whites, Sunday at 3 p. m. at Hasbrouck Park.

More than 400 fans saw Kingston defeat Endicott, 7 to 1, last Sunday at the local park. Second teams of the two clubs meet in a preliminary at 1:30 p. m.

KHS Harriers Record 1st Win Against Oteora

Steady Jimmy Sims broke another record yesterday at Oteora as he paced the Kingston High School Cross Country team to a 47-16 triumph over the Indian Harriers. Sims covered the two mile distance in the sparkling time of 10 minutes, three seconds to break the old record of 19:09 set in 1954 by Tom Schopinsky of Marlboro.

The locals, winning their first meet of the season after two close losses, were in complete control as they captured eight of the first ten places in the event.

Following Sims across the finish line were Ken Barr and Harry Mertine of Kingston while Len Copp of KHS was fourth.

The results:

Oregon Wins, 37-12, Over San Jose State

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Underdog Oregon, independent but eligible for the Rose Bowl, is smelling that flower again.

The Ducks kept themselves in the Pasadena picture Friday night with an easy 35-12 victory over San Jose State, a team that just couldn't handle Oregon runners Willie West, Dave Grayson and Cleveland Jones.

West scored three touchdowns and Coach Len Casanova said West "had one of the best nights he ever had."

The Ducks stand out as Rose Bowl contenders because powerful Southern California is ineligible. The Trojans' NCAA penalty ban doesn't end until seven days after the Jan. 1 game. California also is ineligible because it went to Pasadena last Jan. 1.

Oregon, Washington State and Oregon State get a crack at Pasadena for 1960 although they are not in the Far West five, successor to the Pacific Coast Conference. The new league picks the West Coast entrant.

SMU Wins
In other top games Friday night, Southern Methodist drubbed Missouri 23-2, Utah took Brigham Young 20-8, Tulane blanked Detroit 25-0, Boston Univ. upset West Virginia 7-0 and Wichita beat George Washington 21-0.

Don Meredith and Toney Wilemon starred in SMU's victory. Meredith passed for two touchdowns and pitched out to Glynn Gregory for a 57-yard run that set up another.

Quarterback Ken Viera was the key in Utah's Skyline Conference triumph over BYU. A slender 164-pounder, he passed for two touchdowns and tallied one himself on a 12-yard sprint.

Sophomore Terry Terrebonne broke loose for a brilliant 49-yard broken field touchdown run in the second quarter that broke a scoreless deadlock with Detroit. That

The lighthouse of Pharos, begun about 283 B.C. on the island of Pharos, off the coast of Egypt, served for more than 1,500 years before it was finally destroyed by an earthquake. There are conflicting accounts of the lighthouse's height, but it is generally believed to have been 600 feet tall.

Puzzle—The clock in our village church takes eight seconds to strike 8, how long does it take to strike midnight?

The usual answer is twelve seconds but this is wrong. When the clock strikes 8, there have been only seven pauses each of one and a seventh seconds. In striking midnight there will be eleven pauses of the same duration. Eleven multiplied by one and a seventh equals twelve and four sevenths.

WINNECONNE, WIS. (AP)—

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Riley discovered they are building their new home on the site of an Indian village of 100 to 150 years ago.

The Rileys found some bones and a skull after a bulldozer excavated for the basement. An archeologist confirmed the site was once an Indian village.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Legionnaires Will Transform Village Hall to Ballroom

Saugerties Municipal Auditorium will be transformed into a colorful ballroom for the stage presentation of top notch vaudeville and fine dance music at the 12th annual American Legion Ball Saturday, Nov. 28, it was announced by Roy S. Helmsmoor, general chairman.

Legionnaires and the Auxiliary of Lamoree Hackett Post 72 are cooperating in the annual venture rated as one of the outstanding social events of the season in Saugerties.

A large share of the proceeds of the Legion Ball are used in local support of youth activities in the summer Babe Ruth baseball league and the winter Biddy basketball league.

Commander Clyde Miller announced the following for this year's event: Program, Harold Swart and the Ladies Auxiliary; tickets, James Maines, Cortland Stauss and Arthur Kilborne; publicity, John W. Davis and James McCormick Jr.; finance, James Maines; lighting and sound, Harold Farrell; decorations and cloak room, Ladies Auxiliary.

Investiture Held For Mt. Marion Girl Scout Troop

An investiture ceremony for 26 Girl Scouts of Troop 66, Mt. Marion was held Thursday 7 p. m. in Plattkill Reformed Church Hall, Mt. Marion.

The meeting opened with a flag ceremony conducted by the color guard color sergeant. This was followed by a brief talk on Girl Scouting by Troop Leader Mrs. G. E. Holloran. She concluded her talk by asking for a special vote of thanks for all her committee and those parents who had helped her during the year.

The two youngest Girl Scouts then presented a sponsorship certificate to the Rev. Henry L. Reinwald and two thanks certificates to Mrs. Marie Snyder and Mrs. Charles Weeks who had donated funds for a troop flag.

Following a candlelight ceremony 26 girls repeated their promise and laws, and were pinned by their leader and co-leader, Mrs. Robert Krempner. After two rousing girl scout songs the ceremony was concluded.

Refreshments were served by four Girl Scout hostesses. Many parents attended Mrs. Holloran noted.

Methodist Board Will Study Church Budget

The official board meeting of Saugerties Methodist Church Tuesday evening will study the new church budget prior to approval. The budget is being presented by Norman Nitschke.

Gerry Griffiths, chairman of this year's every member canvass will outline plans for the event scheduled in November.

7 Inmates Are Really Locked Up

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—Seven prisoners in the month-old Clinton County jail hoped today to be freed from their securely locked cell block—so they can go to the mess hall to eat.

An automatic lock system failed in a section of the jail Friday. A master door to the cell block would not budge.

A lock expert from the Decatur Iron and Steel Corp. of Decatur, Ala., was summoned to correct the defect.

To feed the seven, a jailer passed food through bars to the floor of a recreation area. Then he used a stick to shove the food seven feet to the cell doors.

A total of 22 prisoners are in the jail.

Seeking Reason Why Invalid Shot, Gunman Kills Self

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—Police sought today a reason for the fatal shooting of an invalid by a friend who killed himself.

Anthony S. Panaro, 47, the invalid, died in a hospital Friday night of a bullet wound in the chest. Police said he was shot a few hours earlier by Frank Manze, about 38, who fired a bullet into his own right temple.

Police were joined in their investigation by Dist. Atty. John R. Liddy and investigators from the staff of special prosecutor Robert E. Fischer, who is conducting a state investigation of vice and crime in Oneida County.

The shootings occurred in Panaro's second-floor apartment above a vacant store on the city's east side.

Mrs. Panaro told police that, after she heard two shots, she found Manze lying on the floor and her husband bleeding from the chest.

Panaro had suffered from multiple sclerosis since 1944. He was almost completely paralyzed.

Two Men Are Held In Vice Crackdown

WESTFIELD, N. Y. (AP)—The FBI has arrested two men in a crackdown on an alleged vice ring operating between Western New York and Erie, Pa.

Isaac Womack, 27, a Westfield auto mechanic, and Howard Lee Ellis, a factory worker from Silver Creek, were booked Friday on charges of violating the Mann Act. Agents said the men, both Negroes, allegedly drove a 12-year-old girl to a migrant labor camp here in September for immoral purposes.

Meanwhile, in Erie, Inspector Frank Migaski, said federal warrants are being issued for four other men.

Migaski said 11 girls, aged 12 to 18, were transported from Erie to a camp for transient workers in the Dunkirk-Westfield area.

Rocky Praises Harriman For Helping Disabled

NEW YORK (AP)—Republican Gov. Rockefeller has praised his predecessor, Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman, for his part in developing the program to employ the handicapped.

"We all owe him a debt of gratitude," Rockefeller said of Harriman Friday at the annual meeting of the Governor's Committee on Employing the Physically Handicapped.

Rockefeller reported that the State Employment Service has placed more disabled workers in jobs in the first seven months of this year than it did in all of 1958. He said more than 20,000 disabled persons were placed in jobs through July. Last year, 17,500 were placed.

Republic Uncertain

MINEVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—The Republic Steel Corp. is uncertain how much longer the iron deposits in this area will warrant operation of its mines.

The company is making tests and hopes to have an answer in about two years.

Plant Manager William Blomstran advised school officials and other residents this week to take the uncertainty into consideration in any planning for new school facilities. Mining supports the area.

"The situation isn't black but it is marginal," Blomstran said.

Seaway to Close Nov. 13, Earlier Than Last Year

MASSENA, N. Y. (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway will be closed to commercial traffic Nov. 30, the Canadian St. Lawrence Seaway Authority says.

The date is about two weeks earlier than last year, when a sudden freeze caught many ships in the waterway, which then was only partially completed.

John Aiken, public relations director for the Canadian authority, said Friday all Canadian canals except the Welland and the Soo would close Nov. 30. The Soo will be open until Dec. 12, he said, and the Welland will remain open until Dec. 15 to permit traffic to pass between Lakes Erie and Ontario.

Martin Oettershagen, administrator of the U. S. Seaway Development Corp., called the Canadian move "essentially a good one."

However, Oettershagen said the U. S. locks would remain open later to permit dredging in channels and would handle traffic "as long as ships present themselves for passage."

Canada controls both ends of the Seaway.

To Begin Hauling Rock From Base Of Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—Workmen, shielded from the thundering water by a cofferdam, will begin hauling out 75,000 tons of rock from the base of Niagara Falls near Prospect Point next month.

The Niagara Frontier State Park Commission, in announcing the project Friday said the cofferdam would be sunk 50 feet upstream and extend 100 to 150 feet into the Niagara River.

Engineers said this will halt the flow of water over the section of falls where a 1934 rockslide tumbled 7,000 cubic feet of rock to the falls base. The cave-in included a section of Prospect Park, central viewing station on the American side.

Commission President Joseph Davis said the removal of the huge sections of rock will improve the view of the falls from Prospect Point.

He said the project would be completed by early spring. No estimate of cost was given.
